A. P. Walker Causes John R. Brickert, Jersey Cattle Buyer, to be Arrested in Virginia.

WAS EXPECTED HERE TODAY

His Operations Extended Into Franklin and Rush Counties as Well as Virginia.

John R. Brickert, lately of Johnson county, Indiana, who arrived here this morning at 11:16 o'clock under the custody of Sheriff Vandiver of Johnson county to answer to a criminal charge of obtaining credit under false pretenses, which was preferred by A. P. Walker, has been attempting to conduct a gigantic swindle, according to the charges made in criminal and civil proceedings. Brickert was arrested yesterday afternoon in Fredericksburg, Virginia.

Brickert was arraigned in Kratzer's court this afternoon about three o'clock. He waived preliminary hearing and was held to the grand jury under a bond of $1,500. Brickert was taken back to jail and will attempt to get the bond.

In addition to the criminal charge made by Mr. Walker of this county is a charge of a similar nature preferred by the Farmers Trust company of Franklin, Ind. The local affidavit was filed before Squire James Kratzer.

Besides the two criminal cases, it is reported here that a number of civil suits have been brought in Johnson county and in Virginia against Brickert as a result of his alleged fraudulent operations.

Brickert is a Jersey cattle dealer which accounts for his dealings with A. P. Walker. According to A. B. Irvin, who acted in the capacity of attorney for A. P. Walker, Brickert induced Mr. Walker to take a note for cattle which were purchased at a sale here. The note later proved to be worthless because it could not be collected.

As in the local case, Brickert represented to the Farmers Trust company of Franklin that his nephew, who signed the note Brickert passed, was of age. The case was taken to court and the nephew swore he was only eighteen years of age. This made the note worthless.

The note of Mr. Walker was held by the Farmers Trust company of this city. The company pressed

BOARD IS TURNED DOWN

Bartholomew Commissioners Refuse Offer From Rush County.

The Bartholomew county commissioners turned down the proposition of the Rush county commissioners who were here Wednesday in an effort to arrange matters so fourteen orphan children, wards of Rush county, could be sent here and quartered at the Bartholomew county orphan's home, says the Columbus Republican. The law only allows 35 cents a day for boarding orphan children and as that was all the Rush county commissioners were willing to pay the Bartholomew county board did not care to enter into any arrangement with the neighboring county. The expense of maintaining the children would be more than the county would receive, it was said.

BOOKS PLACED IN THE EVIDENCE

National Tariff Association Commission Records Shows Watson Was Paid $3,750.

WATSON NEVER DENIED IT

Washington dispatches say S. C. Meade, secretary of the Merchants' Association of New York, before the senate lobby committee yesterday produced the books of the National Tariff Commission Association, showing that the National Association of Manufacturers contributed $1,000, and testified that the tariff association had paid to former Congressman James E. Watson, $3,750 between April and July, 1909. Martin M. Mulhall had testified that Watson was employed to lobby for a tariff board.

Mr. Watson never denied that he was employed after his term in congress expired to work for the creation of a tariff board. He said from the first that he was employed by the committee of a hundred men which was the National Tariff Association Commission and not by the National Association of Manufacturers.

MRS. WEST HELD TO GRAND JURY

Former Rushville Woman Bound Over to Investigating Body in Indianapolis.

THE BOND IS FIXED AT $250

Judge Collins Holds She Has Had Ample Time to Repay Money Obtained on Check.

Judge Collins in the Indianapolis police court late yesterday afternoon held that Mrs. Edna West, until recently the owner of a motion picture show here, had had ample time to repay Gray, Gribben & Gray, Indianapolis jewelers, $250 she obtained on a check when she had no funds in the bank and bound her over to the Marion county grand jury under a bond of $250.

The Indianapolis News says of Mrs. West's appearance in police court Wednesday afternoon:

When Edna G. West, a moving picture show owner, whose home is in Rushville, Ind., appeared in police court yesterday afternoon to explain her reason for not having paid the proprietors of the Gray, Gribben & Gray jewelry store, Indiana avenue and Ohio street, the sum of $60, the balance due on a $200 check which she cashed at the store nearly a year ago, and which was returned marked "not sufficient funds." Judge Collins ordered the woman held under a $250 bond until this afternoon, when a disposition of the case was to be made.

The woman was arrested in April on a charge of grand larceny. She had cashed checks at the jewelry store on several occasions, and it was shown that she was not trying to defraud the jewelers. The woman agreed to make the money good, and a certain length of time was given her by the court to pay the money. The payments stopped about two months ago with $60 still due.

Nothing was heard of the woman, and it was believed by the police that she had left this part of the country. She appeared in the courtroom yesterday and was willing to pay the jewelry company $10. Judge Collins said he ordered the woman held in jail in order to insure her appearing in the court this afternoon. The woman cried bitterly as she was about to be taken to jail.

"I have been trying so hard to make this money good," said Mrs. West, "but a hoodoo has been hanging over me for several months. I have had trouble with my husband, from whom I am now separated, over this affair; some of my relatives have been very sick and my picture show has not been making expenses. I think, under the circumstances, I have done remarkably well in paying back any of the money." Although the check was cashed by the woman in October, 1912, the police were unable to find her until April.

NOT NEAR ENOUGH.

Newcastle Times: If Jim Watson got only $3,700 for his services to the National Association of Manufacturers he needs a financial guardian until he can take a full course in night school. His services would have been cheap at $37,000, and it is safe to say that the Association paid a lot of pikers even more than that sum for services of smaller value.

TWO I. & C. MEN ARE DISMISSED

E. J. Jordan of This City and Elmer Shertridge of St. Paul, Both Motormen, Discharged.

PRESENT THEIR DEMANDS

Jordan President of Indiana Interurban Trainmen's Union—View of I. & C. Officials.

E. L. Jordan of this city, motorman on the Indianapolis and Cincinnati traction line, and Elmer Shertridge of St. Paul, also a motorman, were dismissed by the superintendent of the road, Oscar Lively, yesterday when they presented their demands for an increase in wages following the organization of the Indiana Interurban Trainmen's union.

In addition to being one of the committee which presented the demands to the I. & C., Mr. Jordan is president of the new union. He was elected at a meeting in Indianapolis Wednesday night. It is reported that all but two of the I. & C. trainmen have affiliated with the union.

Charles Henry, president of the I. & C., is now at Walloon lake on his summer vacation, but it is not likely that he will be called home because of the new circumstances which have arisen. The I. & C. and other Indiana traction lines have been keeping in close touch with the union organizers as they have progressed with the work.

It was not exactly stated by the I. & C. officials that the presentation of the demands of the employees was the cause for the dismissal of the two men, but this is the natural conclusion since the men were dismissed soon after they made the demand. The superintendent did not state to the officials here why he had discharged the men.

"We increased the wages of the trainmen last summer," said an official of the I. & C. this morning, "and we have not increased the wages of any other employees. The maximum wage for trainmen now is twenty-nine cents an hour."

"We feel that the stockholders ought to have a little of the earnings of the road before long. The I. & C. has been operating for eleven years and has never paid a dividend to the stockholders. It seems that the investors are entitled to something for the use of their money."

"It is my honest opinion," continued this official, "that if all of the interurban trainmen in Indiana would walk out, there would be no tie-up of the service. The Indiana interurban officials generally hold this belief. We think there would be no trouble filling the places."

Demands formulated by the new union were presented to several interurban companies during the day, but the general attitude of the interurban officials indicated that the demands will be ignored. The trainmen ask a scale of 30 cents minimum for the first year, and 35 cents thereafter, and reinstatement of men discharged since the organization was begun where agreeable and possible.

It is requested that no run shall pay less than nine hours, that all extra time over regular runs shall pay time and one-half, that all freight train crews shall consist of at least a motorman, a conductor and a brakeman, that all trains consisting of one or more cars shall have at least a motorman, a conductor and a brakeman, and that crews of all passenger trains carrying milk and baggage, express or other merchandise shall consist of at least a motorman, a conductor and a baggageman.

The new union's demands were presented first to the Indianapolis, Columbus & Southern Traction company yesterday and the committee was informed by Chester P. Wilson, president of the company, that its demands would be placed before the board of directors of the company for consideration, a reply being promised next week. When the demands were presented to the T. H. I. & E. the men who presented them were dismissed. Demands were mailed to the general offices of the Union Traction Company in Anderson. L. C. Bewsey, superintendent of the company said last evening that the company did not expect to give them any consideration. Replies are demanded in all cases by 4 o'clock on Sunday morning.

E. L. Jordan held a meeting with the general committee yesterday afternoon in Indianapolis. Jordan said that unless there is a special call no other meeting will be held until 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

ATTEMPTS TO SELL TIRE, IS ARRESTED

Employee of Circus is in Jail Awaiting Word From W. C. Bond of Newcastle.

COMPARES WITH DESCRIPTION

Ed Stanley, a circus hand connected with the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, was arrested this afternoon by Chief McAllister and Policeman Dye, when he attempted to sell an automobile tire at the City Garage. Stanley is alleged to have stolen the tire from the machine of W. O. Bond while the circus was showing in Newcastle last week. This morning the police received a letter from Mr. Bond stating that a tire was stolen from his machine and that the thief had attempted to sell it in Elwood when the show was there but that the garage men did not know of the robbery. One other tire was stolen in Newcastle.

The one recovered here corresponds to the description sent by Mr. Bond. It is an American tire mounted on a Baker rim. As soon as Chief McAllister received the letter from Mr. Bond he notified the garage men and when Stanley attempted to sell it the police were notified. The charge against him will likely be grand larceny.

START WORK FOR CITY CAMPAIGN

Bull Moosers Name Precinct Committeemen at Meeting Held in Court House.

JOHN RUTLEDGE PRESIDES

The Progressives of this city took the first steps last night in organizing for the coming city campaign and any doubts as to whether or not they intended to put out a ticket were dispelled. The meeting last night was for the purpose of selecting the precinct committeemen. The committeemen will meet soon to name a city chairman.

Probably a crowd of thirty attended the meeting which was held in the assembly room of the court house. John Rutledge presided at the meeting. The following are the men named as committeemen: precinct one, George W. Thomas; precinct two, J. C. Craig; precinct three, James Naden and Elsberry Pea; precinct four, B. T. Sampson; precinct five, Daniel M. Kinney; precinct six, Miles S. Cox.

CIRCUS COMES ON SCHEDULE

Large Crowd Watches Work of Unloading And Parade Attracts Many Onlookers.

BRILLIANT STREET PAGEANT

Proves Most Popular Form of Entertainment—Final Performance at 8 O'clock.

The Carl Hagenbeck and the Great Wallace Shows Combined arrived in the city today at an early hour from Muncie and was greeted by a large crowd, waiting to watch the interesting work of unloading and the pitching of the mammoth tents.

As the day progressed it became more and more evident that the circus is the most popular form of entertainment for the small boys, some of whom are six years old and others sixty years of age. The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus is not only the most remarkable organization of its kind but as to discipline and management there is no institution with which one may compare it. Its conquests of the hearts of the young and old today was complete.

The circus requires two long trains to carry its equipment. The jump from Muncie was a long one, but despite the tiresome ride everything was in readiness for the start of the day. Steel run-ways were lowered to the ground from the stock cars and yellow lettered flats and the elephants and camels and great red wagons, their tops and sides masked in canvas, emerged. Eight and ten horse teams came from the stock cars, all harnessed and dragging empty traces behind them.

The "cook tent" was first placed in position that food might await the 1025 men, women and children on the way. This was a simple and expeditiously accomplished duty, as compared with the raising of the "big top," a swelling fabric within whose folds more than 10,000 people can be accommodated.

Preparations for the parade were soon under way. The pageant was all and more, in magnitude and sumptuous beauty than the Hagenbeck-Wallace management had promised. The half a thousand Wallace horses elicited praise from

Shopping Round!

It's a mighty interesting and instructive thing to visit the stores.

A live up-to-the-minute store is really an attractive exposition. It is a mirror of the world's work.

You could not see all the stores in a day—but you can pick out the ones most likely to interest you by reading the advertising in today's Daily Republican.

Let this advertising be a sort of tourist bureau for you, saving you foot steps and leading you directly to what you want to see.

Every advertisement is a notice from the merchant that his "latch string is out."

Keep up to date. See what is to be seen—take advantage of the courtesies extended to you.

You will find the advertising merchants of this town genial and thoughtful hosts.

TWO LEAVE RESERVATION

Louisiana Senators Vote With Republicans Against Free Wheat.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Another close vote was recorded in the senate on a proposed amendment to the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill. The finance committee was sustained in its action in putting wheat on the free list by only five majority, the vote being 37 to 32. All the Republicans voted against free wheat and were reinforced by two Democrats—Senators Thornton and Ransdell of Louisiana. Immediately following the adoption of the committee amendment for free wheat, Senator Gronna of North Dakota proposed an amendment proposing a duty of 6 cents per bushel. This amendment was lost, 37 to 31, the two Louisiana senators voting again with the Republicans.

NATION WIDE PLEA FOR NOVEL DRESS REFORM.

Minnesota Women Appeal Direct to Garment Manufacturers.

Declaring that the present styles in dresses are not fit for modest women and those who refuse to wear tight skirts are obliged to do without new garments, the Fourth district of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Minnesota has started a dress reform which it is proposed to make nation wide.

The board plans to write to every manufacturer and buyer of ready made clothing for women, and to every manufacturer and publisher of dress patterns, making an appeal for modification of the present styles. The letter to be sent to the clothing manufacturers reads:

"The executive board of the Fourth district of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, at the request of a number of women, ask that, beginning with the next season, there be furnished some very attractive, up to date garments where the width at the bottom of the skirts shall be two yards for a woman of thirty-six inch bust measure, well proportioned, not drawing tight across the form at any part, and reaching within three inches of the shoe; other sizes in proportion.

"Many women, under protest, have been obliged to use the present styles of ready made clothing, but very many have informed us that they have done without new garments rather than buy such as have been offered during the last few months. We ask for some different styles for modest gentlemen from those suited to the demimondaine."

The appeal to the manufacturers and publishers of patterns is worded the same, except that the letter states that few women who use patterns are competent to make changes in them and that many object seriously to the styles furnished during the last few months and ask relief. The pattern makers are asked to change their product for the next month's issue of patterns.

PREPARING FOR INDIANA EXHIBIT

State to Be Represented at Conservation Exposition.

WILL MAKE A GOOD SHOWING

In Addition to a Comprehensive Exhibit of Native Woods, Stone and Clay, There Will Be Exhibits at the Coming National Exposition at Knoxville, Tenn. This state will have an exhibit of native woods, limestone, clays and shales, brick, roof tiles, pottery, coal and crushed stone or road material.

Indianapolis, Aug. 15.—Indiana is to be well represented at the National Conservation exposition, to be held throughout September and October in Knoxville, Tenn. This state will have an exhibit of native woods, limestone, clays and shales, brick, roof tiles, pottery, coal and crushed stone or road material.

Edward Barrett, state geologist, has returned from Knoxville, where he made arrangements for the Indiana exhibit, for which more space has been assigned in the building for minerals than to any other state. The state museum is to be drawn on in preparing the Indiana exhibit. The exhibit of woods in the museum is now being packed preparatory to shipping. This exhibit, showing specimens of many trees now almost extinct for commercial purposes, will teach a lesson in conservation, Mr. Barrett said.

In addition to the articles contributed by the state there will be in the Indiana exhibit samples of the products of thirty clay, stone and coal companies. The Indiana state board of health has been invited to send its "big fly" to the exposition. The fly, first shown at an exhibit held a year ago at Washington, measures seven feet in length and astride its back is a human skeleton. "Death rides the fly" is a significant inscription borne by the enlarged fly.

COMPROMISE FORCED ON HOUSE LEADERS

"Corn Tassel" Currency Advocates Gain Point.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Conservative Democratic leaders are making the admission that the radicals who have presented amendments in the house caucus demanding recognition in the administration banking bill of agricultural paper as a basis for the issuance of currency or the creation of a credit, practically have won a victory.

Notwithstanding the statement issued by President Wilson urging that the question of agricultural credits should not be agitated in connection with the pending bill, the fight in caucus hinges on the Ragsdale-Henry amendments, which propose to give warehouse certificates issued against agricultural staples the same standing as a basis for currency or credit, as "prime commercial paper." A compromise on this question that will draw to the support of the administration bill a number of Democrats who have been won over in the last few days by the arguments of the radicals, is now in the process of making. In fact, a concrete amendment by way of compromise was proposed by Representative Underwood, the Democratic leader, who reached the conclusion that unless concessions were made the administration either would be rejected in caucus or go to the house with the support of only a slim majority.

ELOPERS SWIM RIVER.

Modern Leander, Sweetheart on His Back, Escapesirate Father.

Like a knight of old, Henry Hoover Adkinson, aged thirty years, of Pocahontas county, W. Va., stole away his lady love, Miss Lillian Myrtle Blethen, aged eighteen, from her father at White Sulphur Springs, and after having to give up his broken down automobile and swim across the Green River with his bride elect on his back, the pair were married in Cumberland, Md., at the Imperial hotel by the Rev. Joseph Dawson.

Mr. Blethen objected to the marriage but Adkinson stole the girl at night, and in his automobile crossed the mountains pursued by her father, who, it is said, carried a rifle. The machine broke down when near the river, and fearing capture of his sweetheart by her father, Adkinson took Miss Blethen on his back and swam across the river.

FOREIGN TRADE RECORDS BROKEN

Our Exports Last Year Were Over $4,000,000,000.

HUGE GAIN MADE OVER 1912

Figures Just Published by Department of Commerce Show Great Britain to Be Our Best Customer, With Canada Second—Nation's Manufactures Exports Shown to Be Growing Fast.

The detailed figures just given out in Washington by the department of commerce show that the fiscal year ended June 30, 1913, was the banner year in the trade of the United States with foreign countries, the total trade exceeding $4,275,000,000 and surpassing the total trade of the fiscal year 1912 by over $421,000,000.

Imports into the United States in the year exceeded $1,812,000,000 and exports from this country exceeded $2,463,000,000, making a balance of trade in our favor of over $652,900,000. The imports surpassed those of the fiscal year 1912 by over $159,700,000, and the exports were more than $261,500,000 greater than those of last year.

Exports of manufactured and partly manufactured articles in the fiscal year 1913 exceeded $1,500,000,000 in value and show an increase of more than $168,000,000 over the preceding year.

Comparison of Exports.

The total exports of the three classes of manufactures for the fiscal years 1912 and 1913 were as follows:

	1912	1913
Foodstuffs partly or wholly manufactured.....	$318,538,493	$330,401,482
Manufactures for further use in manufacturing.....	348,149,524	408,992,111
Manufactures ready for consumption.....	672,268,163	778,006,345
Total.....	$1,339,256,180	$1,507,401,942

A survey of the above table shows that the greatest gain in exports is in manufactures ready for consumption. In which class there was an increase of more than $105,000,000 over 1912. There was also a substantial gain of over $90,000,000 in manufactures for further use in manufacturing, but the increase in foodstuffs partly or wholly manufactured was only a little over $11,000,000.

Looking at the figures by grand divisions it will be seen that the aggregate trade of the United States with Europe in the fiscal year just ended was over $2,371,000,000, or more than one-half the total foreign trade. This was divided into over $892,000,000 worth of imports and $1,479,000,000 worth of exports, a balance of trade in favor of the United States of more than $586,000,000.

Trade With Our Neighbors.

The aggregate trade with the other countries of North America exceeded $979,000,000, of which over $361,900,000 were imports, and over $617,400,000 were exports. The remainder of the foreign trade, amounting to about $925,000,000, was divided among Asia, South America, Oceania and Africa in the order named.

The United Kingdom maintains its position as the United States' best customer, having purchased from us over $597,000,000 and sold us over $295,000,000 in the year, an aggregate trade of more than $892,000,000. The second best customer is Canada, which bought over $415,000,000 and sold us over $120,000,000, a total trade exceeding $535,000,000. Third comes Germany, which bought over $331,000,000 and sold us only a little less than $189,000,000, an aggregate trade of more than $520,000,000. France is fourth, with purchases in excess of $146,000,000 and sales in excess of $136,000,000, a total trade of over $282,000,000.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of Those Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription othine—double strength—has been discovered that is guaranteed to remove these home-ly spots.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength—from your drug-gist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

SENATE AGREES TO WILSON'S PROGRAM

Currency Legislation Assured At This Session.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Expectation of a recess of congress after the tariff bill is passed or for the postponement of currency legislation until the regular session in December, disappeared last night when the Democratic caucus of the senate adopted a resolution recommending to congress that currency legislation be taken up as soon as the tariff bill is out of the way. The action of the caucus was the result of insistence on the part of President Wilson that this program be followed. Many Democrats in the senate yielded to the president's wishes against their own desires.

It is acknowledged that the action of the caucus probably has created a situation which will prolong the consideration of the tariff bill in the senate indefinitely and keep congress in continuous session throughout the fall, merging the special into the regular December session. This is the deliberate judgment of the leaders on both sides of the senate chamber. The general estimate put forward today as to the time that will be consumed in consideration of the tariff bill carries it up well toward the first of October.

An Accident, Says Coroner.
Indianapolis, Aug. 15.—George Reagan, sixty-six years old, was killed when he was run over by a traction car at Bridgeport. The body was brought to the city morgue. Several sons live in Indianapolis. Mr. Reagan was deaf and, according to a witness of the accident, the car crew was in no way to blame for the death.

Murdered Girl Unidentified.
New York, Aug. 15.—The body of the young woman found in the woods at Spuyten Duyvil Sunday night, has not yet been identified. A cheap, handled pocketknife found near the body is believed to have been the weapon with which the killing was done.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

Few internal events in America have attracted so much attention in the French press as the proposed impeachment of Governor Sulzer of New York.

For the purpose of placing 75,000 Bibles in New England hotels, $25,000 was raised by the Gideons in their national convention at Old Orchard, Me.

Two negroes accused of killing a man and a boy in disputes over water-melons, were taken from officers and lynched by a mob near Paul's Valley, Okla.

Nine men were killed and one fatally injured at the Coronado mine near Clifton, Ariz., when a cable pin snapped and two cars dashed down a steep grade.

The body of William Jones, probate court clerk of Cleveland, O., who had been missing since July 29, was recovered from Lake Erie. It is believed he fell off a boat.

The San Francisco Call, owned by John D. Spreckels, has been bought by M. H. DeYoung, proprietor of the San Francisco Chronicle, and will go out of existence on Sept. 1.

Four men were plunged to death at Memphis when a temporary structure on which they were working in repairing the Mississippi river bridge gave way and fell 100 feet.

Militant suffragettes tried to burn the county schools at Carnarvon, Wales. Fires were started in several places, but were extinguished, though considerable damage was done.

Tom Lawson announces that he will be one of twenty-five men to contribute $100,000 each, if necessary, to a huge fund to back Governor Sulzer of New York in a finish fight with Tammany Hall.

New York gangsters shot and killed a member of the "Sullivan street gang" on Thirty-first street, and three policemen and a detective within two blocks were unable to catch sight of the murderer.

APOLOGIZES TO GREAT BRITAIN

President Disclaims Ambassador Wilson's Statement.

DELIVERS A CUTTING REBUKE

In Disavowing Ambassador Wilson's Action in Matter Which Was Subject of British Explanation and Disclaiming All Responsibility For Language Used by the Ambassador, the President Doesn't Mince His Words.

Washington, Aug. 15.—For his action in issuing a statement criticizing the British foreign office, President Wilson has severely reprimanded Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson. The president and Secretary Bryan seriously considered summarily dismissing the ambassador from the diplomatic service, but finally decided upon the reprimand. The rebuke to the ambassador was in the form of an apology by this government to the British foreign office and a public statement by Secretary Bryan.

It is believed here that President Wilson's sole reason for not dismissing the ambassador is that he is loath to give him the freedom to talk on Mexican affairs which dismissal would carry. By retaining Mr. Wilson in the state department service on a leave of absence status, the president may rely upon the ambassador's sense of his official duty to restrain himself from talking freely on the matters of which he has such an intimate knowledge. In the dispatch carrying the apology to the British foreign office the president disclaims all responsibility for Mr. Wilson's action in the matter and for the language employed by him in his interview and "regrets exceedingly" that a diplomatic official in the employ of this government should have been guilty of such an improper action.

In making public this dispatch Secretary Bryan added that the president does not go further at this time "because he takes it for granted that the action which he has been obliged to take in this matter will be to him a sufficient reminder of his official duties."

Ambassador Wilson, it is believed, would have preferred actual dismissal to the humiliating reprimand which he has been forced to swallow because he spoke out in answer to what he thought to be a reflection upon him by the British foreign office. He has repeatedly requested that his resignation which was put in the hands of the president in March be accepted, and it was only at the request of the president that he consented to take the usual two months leave of absence before terminating his connection with the foreign service of the United States.

The ambassador has some very decided views on Mexican affairs, which differ from those of the president, and it is believed would not be averse to having an opportunity to air them without feeling any bonds of official restraint. He has, however, maintained the strictest silence on Mexican matters since the president accepted his resignation to take effect in October.

The statement of the British foreign office which aroused Ambassador Wilson to issue his statement was made in explanation of the purpose of Great Britain in recognizing the Huerta government. The statement called attention to the fact that the recognition had been only that of a provisional government pending an election and ended with this paragraph:

"The French and German governments also recognized Huerta after a reception by him of the whole diplomatic party at which a congratulatory speech was made in their behalf by the American ambassador."

Ambassador Wilson considered that this statement by inference questioned the correctness of his action at the reception and intimated that it was partly on the strength of this speech that Great Britain had extended recognition. He was angered by it, and in his own statement characterized it as a rank subterfuge unworthy of the traditions of the foreign office. He asserted that the speech which he delivered at the reception was written not by himself but by the English and Spanish ministers at Mexico City.

The ambassador believed that in making his statement he was acting well within his own rights and diplomatic usage as well.

PENMAN CONFESSES CRIME

Arrested For Murder of Friend, Illinois Youth Admits Murder.

Ridgefarm, Ill., Aug. 15.—Gus Penman of Philo, Ill., wanted on a charge of murdering Harold Shaw Saturday night, was arrested in Ridgefarm by Police Magistrate Milholland, who recognized him from newspaper descriptions. Penman was returned to Philo by officers from Danville, who identified him as the man wanted. Penman confessed the murder.

Child Burned to Death.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 15.—Mabel Dirr, was fatally burned as the result of playing with matches in a barn. With several other little girls she was lighting the matches. One of them ignited her dress.

Mary Schoolgirl — "We are studying about the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth. Just think of the hardships they had to undergo and how brave they were!"

Anty Drudge—"Yes, and have you read of how the poor women had to do their washing in the icy waters of the bay? They had no Fels-Naptha Soap to make their washing easy, either."

No woman is so strong that she can afford to waste her strength. Fels-Naptha Soap gives tired, worn-out women a chance to rest and time for pleasure by making their work easy. It does washing, and housework, in less time, better and more easily than it was ever done before. It dissolves grease, takes out stains and makes clothes sweet, clean and white in cool or lukewarm water, with no scrubbing, hard rubbing or boiling.

Follow the directions on the Red and Green Wrapper. Better buy Fels-Naptha by the carton or box.

Don't buy water for bluing. Liquid blue is almost all water. Buy Russ Bleaching Blue, the blue that's all blue.

Live Stock Farming.

Recently it was announced that the Department of Agriculture was sending two inspectors to South American countries and Australia to look into the matter of shipment of meat to this country, and there followed a large volume of protest from farmers, who said the department should not encourage meat importations in competition with home products. To this the department has properly replied that it was not seeking to stimulate the importation of meat, but to see that whatever meat is imported is handled properly, inspected and all the regulations for the preservation of the health of the people complied with. Its activities in this respect are discouraging, rather than encouraging.

Importation of meat from South America and Australia is an actual fact. There is now a shortage of 30 per cent. in home production for the home market, and the shortage must be made good from abroad. This shortage seems likely to increase rather than diminish, as the population increases while live stock decreases. Strenuous efforts are being made by the department as well as by agricultural colleges and experiment stations, to help the farmers fight the diseases which decimate herds and flocks and make live stock growing less profitable, such as the tick, hog cholera, tuberculosis, foot and mouth disease, scabies, etc. Success in this endeavor would mean an increase in live stock at home, which increase is necessary if we are not to pay even more meat than we now do.

But more than this is necessary, and is being done. Every effort is being made to induce farmers to take up live stock growing as the most profitable form of agriculture. This includes the culture of alfalfa, crop rotation, use of fertilizers, feeding crops to animals instead of selling them, and a return to the soil of the elements taken from it in the growing of crops. This sort of farming is being fully, carefully and persistently explained to the farmers by the agricultural press, by bulletins, by lectures, by demonstration farms, by exhibits and in every possible way to reach the ears and the intelligence of those who are pursuing the old and wasteful methods and declaring that farming no longer pays. Especially are they being urged to replace scrub cattle, both for dairy and beef, by grading them up with pure blood sires and carefully saving the good cows from slaughter. It is going to take a long time to get this new farming introduced generally, largely because of the need of cheap money for the farmer to make the necessary improvements, and consumers face the certainty of high prices for some years to come. But in the end all these various activities must have the effect of covering our farmers from mere grain growers into general farmers, with live stock as a basis and prosperity as a result, and a possible arresting of the upward flight of prices of food for the consumer.

People's Column

Kick on Brick Street.

A very cursory examination of the new brick highway on Perkins street just recently thrown open to traffic discloses the fact that the flushing of the surface with cement was very carelessly, hurriedly and imperfectly done, whereas this operation is one of the most important processes in brick street laying. As a result many of the crevices between the bricks are not filled with cement or only imperfectly so. This will permit water to percolate down to the cement rock bed which in winter will freeze and thaw and greatly damage the street.

Besides there are several inequalities—high and low places—along the street where water stands after a rain—especially in the gutters. This is especially true in front of Guy Abernombie's home and in the neighborhood of Tom Carroll's house. There is also a hump at the top of the Perkins street hill. The neighbors got together and raised such a protest over the botch job in front of the Fon Riggs home that the contractors took up the brick and relaid it properly.

Why do the people always get the worst of it in public work of this kind? Will the tax payers when they pay for this $40,000 job pay counterfeited money for a counterfeit job or will they have to plank down real-for-sure-money for a job that should be in every respect up to contract and as per specifications?

END OF INQUIRY
IS IN SIGHT NOW

Fire Investigation Will Probably be Concluded at Meeting Tuesday Night.

TWO WITNESSES TO BE HEARD

R. P. Havens Testifies as to Condition of Fire Engines. Lon Sexton and R. C. Hargrove.

The inquiry into the Masonic block fire of July 20, which is being conducted by the city council, will probably be concluded next Tuesday night when Frank Sullivan, night-watchman, who discovered the fire, and Henry Joyee, engineer on duty at the time of the fire will be heard. Other witnesses may be recalled.

The remaining testimony at Wednesday night's hearing is given today. It includes that given by R. P. Havens, who helped with the fire engine; Lon Sexton, who was working at the Peoples National bank site the morning the water escaped from the reservoir, and R. C. Hargrove who attempted to enter the Masonic rooms on the second floor after the fire had been discovered.

The testimony follows:

Testimony of R. P. Havens.

Questions by Mr. Orme.

Q. How soon were you at the fire?

A. I was there just as they started to throw water into the front door, or over the transom.

Q. After the second alarm?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did they commence throwing water over the transom?

A. Yes sir.

Q. How did they get the water to the transom?

A. I don't know. The door was not open.

Q. How long did they throw water over the transom?

A. I don't know. I didn't stay long. I went to the engine in Third street.

Q. Was there a fire in it then?

A. Yes sir.

Q. They hadn't thrown any water with the engine then, had they?

A. No sir.

Q. Was there any coal on the engine then?

A. They had used all the coal up and we went to Ed Kelley's blacksmith shop and got coal.

Q. How long before they ran a line of hose to the back part of the store?

A. I wasn't round to the back part of the store. I was in front.

Questions by Dr. Parsons.

Q. You are not a member of the fire company?

A. No sir.

Q. You belong to the volunteer company?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you assist about the engine?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did anyone help you carry coal that night?

A. John Norris, son of O. C. Norris, and someone else.

Q. Were you the only men carrying coal?

A. We were from Ed Kelley's blacksmith shop, but more helped when we went to the race. After that we helped lay hose from Second street to the race, John Conroy and I.

Q. Nobody but you and John Conroy?

A. No sir, Jess Trobaugh came along and we asked him to get more help.

Q. Did you have to use tools to get that together?

A. We had a wrench that we used when the hose burst.

Q. Where did the hose burst?

A. At the south line of the the court house.

Q. Was there anybody there to help repair it?

A. Yes, someone uncoupled it. It was full of water and very heavy, and we were a long time getting men to pull it up.

Q. Did you have a new section to put in?

A. No, we used slack.

Q. Did you have tools to screw it up with?

A. I screwed up the south section with my hand.

Q. You used a good deal of blacksmith coal?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Was it hard to keep up steam with that coal?

A. Yes, we shut down once for six or eight minutes.

Q. How much pressure did you have?

A. The highest was 80 pounds and it ran back as low as 20.

Q. Do you know how much pressure they usually maintain when everything is in good order?

A. Yes, about 120 or 130 pounds.

Q. Did you ever see it go higher than that?

A. I possibly have. I think it went as high as 140 once.

Q. Which engine did you have?

A. I thought it was the small one but I guess it was the large one.

Q. You didn't know the small one was out of commission?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you know it now?

A. Yes sir.

Q. How long has it been out of commission?

A. Ever since the flood, I think.

Q. Everything dates from the flood?

A. Yes sir.

Testimony of Lon Sexton.

Questions by Mr. Newhouse.

Q. Were you on the job here at the corner of Second and Main where they were making the connection at the bank?

A. I was.

Q. Did you experience any trouble with the water that night?

A. Yes sir.

Q. About what time? Were the mains dry that night?

A. At one time we thought they were dry. Quite a little water ran out of them. We loosened the hydrant and quite a little water ran there for quite a while. It was between one thirty and two o'clock. We took the fire plug out but we didn't get the head off of the main pipe. We had some trouble in getting it off. Mr. Gregg had gone to the shop for more tools and by the time he got back I had it off. Just about that time the water came back and kept getting stronger all the time, and finally it got so we could not do anything with it. The sewer could not carry it. It only had a four inch line. The water ran into the basement there and we had an awful time with it and it went on until it ran dry again.

Q. What time was that?

A. I suppose about six o'clock in the morning.

Q. When the water first began to come did you notify anyone as to the condition of it?

A. No sir, but I wondered how it was that the water ran so long. We thought almost everything about it. Nobody seemed to know. Someone said the gate was open.

Q. Did you know who said the gate was open at the power plant?

A. I think it was Mr. Brown.

Q. Did anyone send a message to Mr. Brown?

A. Mr. Brown was there several times. He staid there and helped us finish. I don't remember who went to the power house and found out.

Q. While this water was escaping there, did it seem to be a steady flow from the six inch pipe?

A. At times it seemed to me it came in spurts.

Questions by Dr. Parsons.

Q. Were you down at the plant when Henry Gregg was repairing the fire pumps?

A. I was there a short time. I went with Mr. Gregg in the morning.

Q. Monday morning?

A. Yes sir.

Q. After he had been there on Sunday?

A. Yes sir, he told me had been there on Sunday.

Q. Did you examine the pumps on Monday?

A. We looked at the pumps.

Q. What condition was the south pump in?

A. I never saw it run.

Q. Was it dead?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Was there anything wrong with the oiler?

A. I didn't notice it, but someone said there was something wrong with it.

Q. Do you know who it was?

A. I think it was Henry.

Q. Was there anyone there except you and Henry?

A. I suppose Mr. Beale was there.

Q. Was the north pump running?

A. Yes sir.
Q. Was it leaking any?
A. Yes, quite a bit.
Q. About how much of the water was leaking out at each stroke?
A. That would be pretty hard to judge.

Q. What is your best impression?
A. My impression would be that there was nearly one-third running into the sewer.

Q. This was after the fire?

A. Yes sir.

Q. In your judgment about how long would you think the pump had been in that condition?

A. I could not say.

Q. Was the packing badly worn out?

A. I never packed it.

Q. You didn't see the packing?

A. No sir, someone called me away and I never got back to the plant any more at all. One evening I was there about ten minutes.

Q. Was the work finished?

A. No sir, they hadn't started the pump yet. I think they were still packing on the south pump.

Q. The north pump was still running?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Still leaking?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you go to the boiler room?

A. I believe I was in there and looked around.

Q. Were you there when they were repairing the feed water pumps?

A. No sir. I was not there.

Testimony of Raymond Hargrove.

Questions by Mr. Kelley.

Q. What time did you go to the Masonic Temple on the night of the fire?

A. I think it was about twenty minutes of three.

Q. Did you try to get up into the Masonic Hall that night?

A. I tried to go but it was too smoky—too much smoke.

Q. Who was with you?

A. I think maybe it was Clarence Cross. If not that time he was with me just a few minutes afterwards, and we tried to get in the post office.

Q. Did you get the door open upstairs?

A. We unlocked the big door but we could not get upstairs.

Q. Was it full of smoke?

A. Yes sir.

Questioned by Mr. Ormes.

Q. Did you notice much heat on the window panes when you came down?

A. No sir.

Q. Was it too smoky for anyone to enter the lower rooms of the building?

A. It was impossible to get upstairs. The second room from the north was very smoky. I could hear the confusion in the second room.

Q. Do you think the fire had burned through by the time you got there?

A. I think so.

Q. Were they throwing water on the fire at that time?

A. No sir.

Q. That was three o'clock?

A. About twenty minutes of three.

Questions by Mr. Newhouse.

Q. That was after the second alarm?

A. It was during the second alarm. It was probably a little before the second alarm that I tried to go upstairs.

Society News

Miss Myra Newkirk entertained the Cross Country Club at her home in Sexton Thursday evening. The Misses Carrie White, Hazel Kiser and Mrs. Karl Enos were guests.

The Home and Foreign Missionary society of the New Salem Methodist Protestant church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McKibben on the Gowdy farm, west of the city yesterday. There were forty-six in attendance and the day was enjoyed immensely. A big dinner was served at noon. Several members of the Morristown M. P. church attended.

RUSH COUNTY MAN LANDS

A. J. Hutchens is Appointed County Agent For Clerk.

A dispatch today from Jeffersonville, Ind., says that A. J. Hutchens of this county has been appointed county agent for Clark county by Purdue university who sent T. S. Coleman, formerly of this city, met with the Clarke county board of education. The board confirmed the appointment, fixed the salary at $1,600 and arranged the headquarters for the new county official Mr. Hutchens address in this county could not be learned this afternoon.

—Preaching services will be held at the First Baptist church Sunday by Dr. L. P. V. Williams, state evangelist, at 10:45. Subject, "Co-partnership" or "A Business Firm." Dr. Williams will have charge of the church during the month of August, or until a pastor is installed. Sunday school at 9:30. Prayer meeting on Thursday at 7:30. Everybody Welcome.

SLIT TROUSERS FOR MEN.

Believed Would Prove Quite Fascinating, Especially With Fancy Socks.

Slit trousers were discussed recently at Cedar Point, near Sandusky, O., where the International Custom Cutters' association just concluded its mid-summer meeting and outing, and promises to win, the cutters say, the same degree of favor as the slit skirt.

Headed by P. F. Kelley, a Milwaukee sartorialist, twenty-two custom cutters blossomed forth in trousers of either white serge or flannel, the legs of which were slit outside and inside to a point about midway between the ankle and the knee.

Hosiery of delicate hue was worn. The modish tight skirt for women was lauded as a garment enabling tailors to set off feminine gracefulness to a better advantage than ever before.

MEMORY BRINGS COOK OF PITTSBURG BACK HERE

and landmarks around here? Lots of changes. Can't recognize anything. I remember the old frame court house that stood over there where the Grand hotel is now."

Luther Benson, the famous drunkard temperance advocate, was an attorney here when John Cook lived here. Ex-Lieut. Gov. Sexton lived here then. So did James Wilson, the famous horse man, and father of Rich Wilson. Mr. Cook remembers these, together with Jeff. Jones, who ran the hotel, and the Clines, a family of Jews who ran a clothing store here.

Mr. Cook recalls an incident about the Clines. One of the sons was to be married. He chartered a special car on the C. H. & D. and took all of his guests to the wedding. The bride was the daughter of a wealthy distiller.

"Most all of the guests from here got back safely," commented Mr. Cook, "but they had some difficulty in tearing five or six away from the distillery. The Clines straightway went into the distillery business and left here."

Mr. Cook was very reminiscent. He owned a mare which was a half-sister to Hoosier Tom, a famous race horse of that day. Jeff Jones had a little sorrel mare he thought was faster than Cook's.

The race was arranged for the following Sunday. The owners drove their horses and Cook won three out of five heats. Some of the stockholders of the fair association were members of a church here, and while on their way to the services that Sunday, witnessed the race.

"They were horrified," continued Mr. Cook. "That night they made inquiries as to who the parties were and whether any money was bet. The grand jury was in session, and we were shaking in our boots. We were all so frightened that we left town that Sunday night and never came back until the whole affair blew over."

"I thought this was a wonderful town in those days," said Mr. Cook. "I often say those were the happiest days of my life. I was at the impressionable age when I thought everyone was honest. I don't mean that the Hoosiers are not, but you have to get up early in the morning to get ahead of them."

"This was a good business town then, but of course nothing compared to today. It had much more enterprise than Knightstown. I got in the box during the panic in '73. I had a lot of drafts which were good, but couldn't get anything on them. I had to wire my partner for money."

Mr. Cook looked on at the circus parade, walked over the business part of the city and left this afternoon for Chicago.

Amusements

The Princess will show an Edison drama, "Mercy Merrick" for the first picture tonight. Mary Fuller is featured in this picture. The other is a Kalem comedy entitled "When Women are Police." Both are said to be good pictures.

The Portola will show an Essanay "Broncho Billy's Capture" for the first picture tonight. G. M. Anderson is featured. "The Butler's Secret" is the title of the second, a Vitagraph drama. The last picture is a Lubin drama, "The Penalty of Jealousy."

FINE FARM FOR SALE

Mr. and Mrs. George Guffin, on account of age and inability longer to look after farm work, offer for IMMEDIATE SALE the FARM upon which they now live, situated five and one-half miles southeast of Rushville on the Brookville Pike, and one-half mile from New Salem high school.

For convenience and beauty of location, splendid improvements, productiveness, living water, beautiful shade trees and abundance of fruit, this farm has become widely known and admired and is an attractive offer to anyone desiring a permanent home.

This farm consists of ONE HUNDRED TWENTY ACRES; fine slate roof dwelling; good bank barn; usual farm conveniences, and is on the I. & C. traction extension as contemplated from Rushville to Cincinnati.

It is proposed to sell this farm on or before September 20th to the highest approved bidder at private sale on easy and desirable terms.

If interested in seeing this farm or desiring further particulars, call on or write J. FRANK WILSON, who lives on farm adjoining. Postoffice address R. F. D. 1, Rushville, Indiana.

Or write L. D. Guffin, Columbia Club, Indianapolis, Indiana.

LOLA NORRIS TELLS OF THAT RENO TRIP*Further Evidence in the Case Against Diggs.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—In the Diggs white slavery trial Lola Norris, the companion of Drew Caminetti, took the witness stand and fully corroborated Marsha Warrington's story that it was by means of intimidation and threats that both girls were induced to leave their homes and go to Reno. She gave the strongest evidence of the fear they were laboring under and which for the time overcame their love of home and their desire to keep secret their relations with the married men. She also swore solemnly that she was a virtuous girl until she was debauched by Caminetti at Reno. This declaration she made despite the facts brought out the day before that she spent a night in this city with Caminetti at a hotel. She declared she protested when Diggs took Marsha Warrington into one room and locked the connecting door and that she never undressed, and sat up all night in a chair and even refused to allow Caminetti to kiss her during that night.

She gave damaging testimony corroborative of the government's contention that Marsha Warrington and herself were systematically intimidated by threats of the defendant and his indicted associate into taking the Reno trip. Permitted to tell the jury her story in her own way, Miss Norris in narrative form disclosed every incident connected with the elopement, from the inception of the plan to the arrest of the quartet in the Reno bungalow.

In every instance Miss Norris corroborated the testimony of Miss Warrington with relation to the intimidation of herself and her chum, and in detail told of Diggs's promise to marry Miss Warrington and of a similar promise made to her by Caminetti. The weddings, according to her, were to follow the Reno visit, as soon as the defendant and his associate could arrange divorces from their wives. The trial cannot be completed before Tuesday or Wednesday of next week, when the Caminetti trial will follow.

Logansport Men Charged With Violating Child Labor Law.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 15.—George Strecker, a baker, against whom six charges of violation of the state child labor law were filed, following the killing of Leland Warner, aged thirteen, on the freight elevator in the Strecker bakery Monday, entered pleas of guilty in the court of H. L. Fousts, justice of the peace. Fines and costs were assessed against him amounting to $210. George Mukahey, a cigar maker, pleaded guilty to the two charges filed against him for employing as strippers girls less than sixteen years old, and was fined $66.90.

Edgar A. Perkins, state factory inspector, who filed the charges, said the practice of employing children in Logansport factories must stop.

TWO GOVERNORS HOLD THE FORT

Sulzer and Glynn Both On the Job at Albany.

STATE MACHINERY IS TANGLED

Just Who Is Governor of New York Is a Question That Is Perplexing the Officials of the Empire State to the Point of Distraction and Which, Unless Soon Settled, Will Paralyze the State's Official Machinery.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Today Governor Martin H. Glynn will send to Governor William Sulzer a letter demanding that the impeached Mr. Sulzer surrender his office. It is expected that Mr. Sulzer will answer the demand by handing Mr. Glynn's messenger a letter saying that Mr. Sulzer is governor and will continue to act as such unless the court of appeals rules against him. Such a letter is all ready.

Governor Sulzer started a test of his own powers by signing a requisition for the extradition of a prisoner to West Virginia. The prisoner wanted in West Virginia is now locked up in New York city charged with passing a bad check. Deputy Sheriff Bartels of Martinsburg, W. Va., came to the capitol late yesterday afternoon and asked Mr. Glynn to sign the requisition. Mr. Glynn told him he would not do it unless Mr. Sulzer refused to sign it himself. The sheriff then went to Mr. Sulzer's office and got Mr. Sulzer's signature. When the sheriff went back upstairs to the lieutenant governor's office, Mr. Glynn refused to add his signature to that of Mr. Sulzer. So the pilgrim from West Virginia, vowing that nobody in Albany knew who was governor of the state and that a man who had traveled so far ought to be more courteously treated, left for New York. He said that he would ask Mayor Gaynor to order the acting police commissioner to honor the signature of William Sulzer and allow the prisoner to be taken back to Martinsburg. So it may be that Mayor Gaynor, an ex-supreme court justice, will have the job of deciding which of the state's two governors is the right one.

The importance of all this extradition fuss from the standpoint of Mr. Sulzer is that it may be the means of bringing his fight before the United States courts, that it would be for the federal courts to decide who is the lawful governor of New York. There was every evidence that Governor Glynn is not worried as to the strength of his position. His only question was as to how to start the machinery which would prove his right to be governor. To help him in a decision he called in several lawyers who are long-time friends. They will act as counsel until the issue is settled.

The great seal of the state is locked up in the safe of the secretary of state, Mitchell May. Mr. May says that if Mr. Glynn asks for it, it will be delivered to him, but that if Mr. Sulzer asks for it the request will be submitted to the office of the attorney general. Mr. Glynn has signed no state papers and will make no attempt to perform any function of the governorship until after his letter is sent to Mr. Sulzer.

Mr. Sulzer posed twice for photographs standing beside a floral horse-shoe five feet high, which was conspicuously labeled "From the People." He has had some sleep and looks all right. Mrs. Sulzer is better, but is still seriously ill. Her three sisters were sent away to the mountains from the people's house in order that she might have a complete rest.

When Patrick E. McCabe, clerk of the senate, served on Mr. Sulzer the articles and notice of impeachment and a summons to appear before the impeachment court on Sept. 18, the contending governor threw them on his table and said "All right."

According to a close friend of Mr. Sulzer he sincerely believes that the court of appeals will decide in his favor and that, failing that, the impeachment court will find him guiltless. If instead he is declared guilty and removed from office he will retire to a little home somewhere, start a small newspaper and devote himself to "exposing" Tammany and breaking its control of the state.

These are the main developments and declarations in the astonishing situation in Albany.

ORIGIN OF BRYAN'S SEAL

Secretary of State Adopts an Ancient Macedonian Coin.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Secretary of State Bryan has received a letter from the British ambassador communicating to him an expert opinion on the origin of the coin which the secretary has adopted as his personal seal for state department papers. The ambassador had written to the curator of coins of the British museum for the opinion.

It was learned that the coin was a silver drachma, widely circulated at the time of Philip III. of Macedonia, who was the half-brother of Alexander the Great and ruled in the Fourth century B. C. One face of the coin shows the beardless Apollo with hand extended, upon which a dove is perched. It was the dove that attracted Mr. Bryan, and he has thought it especially fitting that the coin should be used to seal his peace treaties.

NEW ORDERS IN EFFECT TODAY

New Weight Limit and Other Changes in Parcel Post Rules Become Effective.

ITS LOCAL APPLICATION

Combining of First Two Zones Places
Indianapolis in Rushville's
First Zone.

Today the new ruling making a number of important changes in the parcel post system became effective. The most important of the changes is that of raising the weight limit in the first and second zones from eleven to twenty pounds.

The order of the postmaster general is "that on and after August 15, 1913, the limits weights of parcels of fourth class mail for delivery in the first and second zones shall be increased from eleven to twenty pounds. The rate of postage on parcels exceeding four ounces in weight shall be 5 cents for the first pound and 1 cent for each additional two pounds or fraction thereof, when intended for local delivery, and 5 cents for the first pound and 1 cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof when intended for delivery at other offices in the first and second zones."

Whether or not this will mean a noticeable increase in the parcel post business, local postoffice officials are unable to say. The carriers look at the increase with considerable alarm, because if a great many people decided to send twenty pound packages for delivery on the rural routes the carriers would have to have drays instead of their small mail wagons.

The orders allowing packages weighing up to 20 pounds to be mailed at parcel post rates in the first and second zones takes in a radius of 150 miles from the Rushville postoffice. The first zone is fifty miles and the second one hundred. This includes Indianapolis and as far east as Cincinnati and Columbus, O., but it does not reach north to Chicago.

Postmaster General Burleson has ordered that perishable articles heretofore limited to the first zone of 50 miles, may now be mailed to points within the 150 miles of two zone radius if they are properly packed. This will include butter, lard, eggs, dressed poultry, fresh meat, fish and the like.

Orders have been received that after August 31 what is known as the reserve fund in the postal savings department will be abolished and this fund will be merged into what is known as the trustees' fund. Heretofore there have been two postal savings funds in a local bank but under the new orders both funds will be merged into one and the checks to pay depositors who desire withdrawals from the postal savings bank will be honored from the single fund.

CHARGES HE GOT CREDIT FALSELY

Brickert for payment while he was still at Franklin, Ind. He wrote here that he would settle at once. At that very time, according to Mr. Irvin, Brickert was shipping forty head of his Jersey cattle to Virginia. He transferred the other thirty head he owned to his minor nephew.

Civil action has been started by the Farmers Trust company of this city to collect the note. Similar suits have been brought by the Farmers Trust company of Franklin, the First National bank of Greenwood, Johnson county and by several people in Virginia, Mr. Irvin says.

The wife and mother-in-law of Brickert are implicated in his extensive operations, according to Mr. Irvin. Mrs. Hannah Tressler of Fredericksburg, Virginia, the mother-in-law, in on all of the paper as security. She owned 195 acres of land in Virginia, but transferred it, according to information Mr. Irvin has. It has been attached in civil suits, as was a farm of 107 acres in Johnson county which Mrs. Brickert owned, and in which her mother, Mrs. Tressler, had a life estate. This was transferred to Mr. Brickert's nephew who was a minor.

About two months ago the deed to the Franklin county land was signed by Mrs. Tressler at Fredericksburg, Virginia. It was executed by a notary public at ten o'clock one morning in Fredericksburg and placed on file at Franklin, Ind., the next afternoon at four o'clock.

When A. P. Walker learned of this he became suspicious. He did not believe the deed could be transferred from Fredericksburg to Franklin in that time. He and Mr. Irvin, his attorney, made a hurried trip to Fredericksburg, but were not allowed to see Mrs. Tressler. They found the home, but her son refused them admittance on the pretext that she was ill.

They found the notary public who had executed the deed and learned that it had been done. Mr. Irvin and Mr. Walker were confident Brickert was in the house then and that was the reason they were not allowed to enter. Although they never learned who the person was, the two local men believe the deed was carried from Fredericksburg to Franklin by some one.

Brickert was arrested after requisition papers had been given by Governor Ralston to the governor of Virginia. The sheriff of Franklin county was appointed a special agent to bring him back to Indiana.

CIRCUS COMES ON SCHEDULE

all onlookers. They ranged from the great Clydesdale and Percheron draft horses to tiny Shetlands, and were in pink condition and spirited. Their trappings glistened and were splendidly ornate.

A great crowd was awaiting when the circus opened its doors at 1:00 o'clock this afternoon. Visitors found an ample hour's engrossment in the great Carl Hagenbeck Zoological paradise. There were many cages containing rare and curious creatures. Lions and tigers paced up and down the floors of their dens. The insatiable elephants swung their trunks tirelessly. Leopards sulked in their cages. The monkey cage attracted a ceaseless audience. "Big George" the largest hippopotamus in captivity, floundered in his tank.

The circus performance began promptly at two o'clock when the 300 odd performers and fifty clowns trooped into the "big top" for the grand entry together with elephants, camels and the other wonders of the circus.

The final performance will be given tonight at 8 o'clock. The doors will be opened an hour earlier. Then the circus will move on to delight children in other cities and to make the old live again the halcyon days of childhood when despair and darkness were unknown.
